Okay, after installing a win Xp shell... I broke my computer. Completly. And I can't find the driver disks...

Does anyone know a way to get my computer running?

(I was smart and used the ctrl+alt+delete function to get here)

My Computer > Look on the right panel, you'll see Control Panels.

Find system restore in there.

Okay, thanks. It worked.

Does anyone know a shell that won't make my computer go BOOM?

Style XP or Windowblinds. There are others which are as reliable [j4S\[p\]@www.astonshell.com](mailto:j4S[p]@www.astonshell.com).

I use it, its customisable, and many of the skins look awesome.

Aston slowed my games down by 70%. I don't recommend using it.

Hmm... well, I just installed it. I'll test it for myself, then decide.

I just played CS: Source in a eight player game, and I didn't lag while I was getting killed... I mean owning >_> glyde51 If i uninstalled aston shell would it revert to Explorer?

Yes, there's a option to change between Aston and Explorer. So if you wanted to play your games you use the switcher and it goes back to Explorer without restarting or anything.
