Do you think sniping artilleries is a good tactic? I've heard some people say that it is stupid, but because of the artillery's long barrel, it's so easy to kill it in a few hits. Isn't it strange how much a sniper rifle hurts them?

No, not really especially the n00bjet. A sniper is quite overpowered against vehicles right now. But theres no other way to replace it right now, so you cant just take it out.

if you need a ramjet to kill an artillery, that's when you know that player is better than you.
