Idiot.

You don't go around saying how great your mod is in every post. What you do do is bash all the other mods to make them look bad. And I can also remember you saying how renalert is much better than other mods.

Same thing goes with a lot of the work you do.

I found this posted on mektek, it seems like it is needed. It is by no means my own, but I thought, 'what the hell.' As soon as I have time I am going to put this in to flash and have a nice scrolling gif to help people out. Then i'm going to make a spelling and grammar (and some l33t,) gifs so that people can use them to cut down the deliberate misunderstanding and stupidity.

I always wonder why this happens on forums...

Now we have to put up with idiots taking the easy way out because there are "meanings" to the idiocy? I'm not going to waste my time trying to figure out what morons are trying to say just because they feel that they can type like this because there's some "meaning" to their gibberish. I'd rather not drop a few IQ points to try and figure out what they are trying to say when they could just as easily GAIN IQ points or at least seem more intelligent by actually using the correct form of the English language.

genetixAircraftkillerDoing what, picking out where you people lie about me? I never go around saying how great I am. In fact I rarely say anything about myself until someone decides to attack me, and the only time I bring myself up is when they do first.

Idiot.

You don't go around saying how great your mod is in every post. What you do do is bash all the other mods to make them look bad. And I can also remember you saying how renalert is much better than other mods.

Same thing goes with a lot of the work you do.

You said something completely different. Stop backtracking... You said that I always gloat about how great I am and about how great the work I do is. I pointed out that I rarely, if ever, do that.

Bashing what others make is NOT self-glorification. It could be just as simple as bashing what they make because it sucks. Why doesn't that ever cross your mind?
