Check these out. I made 'em to help me get into the FanMaps clan. They kick butt.

PWNAGE:

AVI (34 megs)

QUICKTIME (89 megs)

Renegade How-To's:

AVI (low) (56 megs)

AVI (high) (89 megs)

QUICKTIME (66 megs)

The movies size are too big.

I can do 5 minute movies of similar quality that stay under 25MB without having to .rar or .zip it.

Yeah, TankClash, can you explain what codec to use? I'm new to the whole movie making thing. It'd be very helpful...

windows movie maker for .wmv or tsunami mpeg encoder, .mpg. you can get win movie maker from windows update.

in other news I can't believe that server has an 'obelisk gun', wtf is that shit? the base powering down thing is good, as well as a few others, but most of the crap they run server side kills the gameplay and bastardises online play. I mean, god crates? stealth mediums? I saw that you had like 700 health, double that of a class 1000 character. i don't know why you want into this clan...

I use fraps to record the movies, then I open up Virtual DubMod 1.5.4
<http://www.virtualdub.org/index>

Open the recorded video in that, compress at 50% using Indeo(R) Video R3.2 After that, I open up good o'l Windows Movie Maker.

Tankclash, Thanks for the advice. I downloaded VirtualDub, but I haven't had much experience with it. I'll check it out.

And flyingfox, if you play around in the FanMaps servers for a while and get to know the clan members, you'll know why it's such an attractive clan. They're great guys who are all about having fun, even though a lot of them are really good at Ren. I wouldn't say it's not a competitive atmosphere, but it's not like clans who are overcompetitive and get too emotional about things.
:rolleyes:

Oh, and the obelisk gun is only in their CTF server. Notice I called it "retarded". I'm against it, too. Another feature of the CTF server is that they augmented the jump height for a few characters. It's pretty sweet. (notice at the end of the ob gun segment, there's a SBH that's hopping 15 feet into the air) Hopefully some day they'll change the server mod around a bit.

About the stealth medium, you can get a crate that makes the next vehicle you go into stealth. The chances of a crate being that are very, very slim. And the chances of a crate being a god crate are like one in a million. That's why I recorded the whole session of me being in god mode. It just makes the game more fun. I wouldn't recommend ONLY playing in those servers, because then it messes you up when you try to play in a real server.
