I can't see this mentioned elsewhere so I have created a new topic. This God crate has ruined Renegade and I am sick of every game being ruined because you can't kill this stupid thing! According to a friend of mine, he said a HS would do it, but I got 4 HS's on this one guy and still nothing....

Now people who don't know me will say, your crap then, your a 56ker, your a n00b, your whatever.... Now, I have been playing this game since the beginning (apart from 6 months last year) and I play half on the AOW games and half on the sniper games and I am usually at the top of the sniper matches if not the top itself, so I can play Ren quite well before anyone starts off on that line.

My point is, I really really hate this god crate and is it possible to get rid of it because I love Ren and find it hard to put down (just like my beer) and do anything instead.

I see that Zunnie is doing a lot for Renguard now, me and Zunnie go a long way back in Ren and he will vouch that I am no n00b, dont know whether he would agree with me on this subject but I had to try and do summit....

Yours forever pissed off (till it goes)

Pip

yea, I agree.

The god crate idea was originated from the other originated games.

Now this crate is a good idea for those type of games, it really is a big no no.

It really does cross a level of stupidity.

Play a server that doesn't run that server sided mod, maybe?

yeah, it's excessive.

It was in Red Alert sure, but it only lasted a minute. (and your units didn't get any sam-site weapon with it either)

that said, you can still squish the buggers

The God crate (all the crates actualY) are configured by the server admin, so theres not really anything anyone can do (except those admins) about it. I would suggest finding out who admins the server you play on that has the God crate and talk to them directly.

Note that if you have the God crate, you can be headshot (single shot kill), and run over, as I have had both happen to me "Muhahaha I am invincible!!" harvey squish

Also what about those little backpacks people keep dropping that let any character use high class equipment, like engineers with laser chainguns and personal ion cannons, I mean how unbalanced is that??
