Just a thought:

It might be cool to hold 5 tournaments:

A United States tourney
A Netherlands/Swede tourney
A United Kingdom Tourney
A German Tourney
And a Canadian Tourney

Then choose the best players to represent their country based on the tourney results

Finally have All Five move up a tourney ladder with the best seed getting an automatic bye for the first leg of the tourney.

Then post the results of every match in these forums. n00bstories servers would be used for this.

Im not saying I would organize it, its just an idea I came up with, might be fun.

Any thoughts?

Good idea, but weed have to spread it to lots of forums to get all of these European players.

We can first have like preliminary games to choose the best players from each country, then we can set up a bracket and play out a tournament.

i said n00bstories because the owner of these forums also is the admin for n00bstories. But really any server with good speed could be used.
