Hmmm. I don't really agree on the gender difference thing. I quite often speak to a girl (OMG he actually speaks to girls) who is far less formal in her Instant messages than I am. Oh well, she might be an of those 10%.

While we both are students, at the same thing americans call a university I think.

I call bullshit too, read these convos between me and two of my ex-girlfrinds:

Changed her user name to "Old Girlfriend". Keep in mind except the name change this is 100% accurate, nothing has been changed.

I picked random days.

(We are both 18 years of age)

EDIT: Ok on this one, i wasnt really into the converasation, so i didnt really talk too much and there aren't very many sentences. But she typed in CAPS the whole time.

Copied word for word, nothing has been changed:

Quote:why love what u can not have? when live is so hard to be there 24 for 7. llove is hard to give up on so why do it. u and i need to be love way not love each other. u love me so u claim but maybe u are just play me like a toy but maybe u are not but loveit self is all u need to get through live and be there for one another and be happy.

This article is 'lie's to children,' bullshit. the man who wrote it has had to dumb it down something chronic.

Here is the original paper in pdf.

<http://www.american.edu/tesol/Baron-SeeYouOnlineCorrected64.pdf>

after reading it its hard to imagine how he came to his conclusion.

Up to page 16 is mostly references and some nice background info. Some of them i cant find any more and now want to read.

Read page 17 onward and you will figure it out. Its a pity she does not say why many of the male subjects bailed or how many were left (it seems like 3)

25 conversations were monitored 9 male, 9 female, 5 both. many of the male conversations were between 2 people, so it does not give a good reference.

This news website is designed for teens, so it contains allot of the 'lies to children' information we expect from such news forums. Although correct it does not have all the information and many of the facts are embellished to allow better understanding.

the paper is more of a presentation. It does not cover a wide enough area to be anything more. Its more of a breakdown of sentence structure to help build a better foundation for those who follow. Its a very interesting read.

This is written by the same woman and paints a pretty bleak picture. It goes a long way to explain all the terrible half tried half written netstories the internet is filled with.

Pedophile.

I'm in total disagreement too, but there's no need for me to bring a proof since it would be completely irrelevant due to the amount of College students on the Internet, it can't be 10 percent that's for sure.

Oblivion, if you read closely, you would see it's when girls talk to other girls, not mixed gender conversations.

Ah, my mistake. I posted all of this at 5am my time, so needless to say i was a little tired.

As for the phone number, why would i care? I broke up with her, that's like you calling my first grade teacher a 1000 miles away in texas. Just doesnt matter.

Anyway, i still disagree.

Yes, very much so. She really didnt fit my personality very much.

Hehe, in fact one conversation, i remember her talking about where she wanted to get married, and i was thinking about being lost in the wilderness after a plane crash.

I was to befriend a baby bear and name him balue. Man o' Man the crazy adventures. God i love that bear.

English are like

whereas people in NL have something like #####

But still, If someody knows where he lives, they can get her number
