I would like to make a legal pursuit against Jonathan D. Holmes for using private work of my mod and posting it on the internet.

How should I start this ?

<http://dynamic6.gamespy.com/~renalert/forum/index.php?showtopic=5959>

He is making fun of something I didn't released for good reasons...

I took a screenshot of the page, and recorded the source so I have proof. Now I want to go further and have him to the court.

I never gave my permission to JD holmes to use or download any of my work. He has to pay.

Quote:Hi everyone,

phpBB Group announces the release of phpBB 2.0.13, the "Beware of the furies" edition. This release addresses two recent security exploits, one of them critical. They were reported a few days after .12 was released and no one is more annoyed than us, having to release a new version in such a short period of time.

Fortunately both fixes are easy and in each case just one line needs to be edited.

The first issue is critical (session handling allowing everyone gaining administrator rights) and we urge you to fix it on your forums as soon as possible:

Open includes/sessions.php

Find:

Code:

if( $sessiondata['autologinid'] == $auto_login_key )

Replace with:

Code:

if( $sessiondata['autologinid'] === $auto_login_key )

A second minor issue reported to bugtraq several days ago was the path disclosure bug in viewtopic.php which got fixed by applying the following steps:

Open viewtopic.php

Find:

Code:

$message = str_replace("\", "'", substr(preg_replace('#\>(((?>([^\<]+|(?R)))*)\<)#se',
"preg_replace('#\b(" . $highlight_match . ")\b#i', '<span style=\"color:#\" . $theme['fontcolor3'] .
"\">\1', '\0)', '>' . $message . '<'), 1, -1));

Replace with:

Code:

$message = str_replace("\", "'", substr(@preg_replace('#\>(((?>([^\<]+|(?R)))*)\<)#se',
"@preg_replace('#\b(" . $highlight_match . ")\b#i', '<span style=\"color:#\" . $theme['fontcolor3'] .
"\">\1', '\0)', '>' . $message . '<'), 1, -1));

As with all new releases we urge you to upgrade as soon as possible. You can of course find this download available on our downloads page. As per usual three packages are available to simplify your upgrade.

I see my uncle this afternoon, he is a judge at the european court.

Anyway, you have still a few hours to remove the pic and tell us who did that or we will have to attack you. I removed you from ignore list to get your answer. The ball is your camp now. Move ya ass.

Banned? Not to my knowledge.

Legal action? Good luck. You put your work in a public directory where one of my forum members found all of your artwork assets. I simply posted one of the most horrible pieces of shit you made up for everyone to see, and now you cry foul?

There's no legal basis for any claim you could make with this. Joey was infringing on our intellectual copyright by violating the standards set forth for registering domain names. Since we're not taking your domain name after it expires, there's absolutely nothing you can do except pull your head out of your collective asses and learn how to put your files in a secure location where someone like fatcat can't just waltz in; he downloaded whatever he wanted because not only was the folder unprotected, the files weren't either.

You're a bunch of retards.

Yeah, you'll do something... If by that you mean you'll do nothing at all, because there's no law in existence that covers what you're complaining about.

Please take pictures when the police tell you to leave because they have actual crimes to worry about.

Know why I said that? Because I haven't done anything illegal. Blaming me for showing a piece of shit texture you placed in a public folder that was discovered by someone else is like blaming spoons for making Rosie O'Donnell fat.

No one stole anything you made. Like the idiot you are, you allowed your team's work to be placed in an insecure folder... Now you're going to go to the police?

Lol, you can't, he hasn't done anything illegal. Firstly, he didn't get it from the server, Fatcat did, they both said that he did a couple times in that thread. He isn't using your private work. And posting your texture on the internet isn't illegal.

Even what Fatcat did wasn't illegal, he didn't break into it and steal it since it's a public folder (not passworded), anyone could have.

Besides it being Aircraftkiller and that he posted your texture, why is this such a big deal? It's completely worthless without the model the UVW mapping was made for.

And your point is? Before you complain about me posting a single craptacular texture you made, rememeber you've actually violated international law several times by taking my portraits and editing them. As far as I can remember, with my memory being as unreliable as it is at 7:30 AM, you've made about six edited versions of my portraits... All done without my consent, and all done in an attempt to harass and defame my person.

That violates Internet harassment laws, if you didn't realize it before. Be sure to mention that part to your uncle, and especially to the police, right before they laugh at you for wasting their time.

Renardin6I would like to make a legal pursuit against Jonathan D. Holmes for using private work of my mod and posting it on the internet.

If he actually uses it on any of his work, then yes: perhaps you'd have some legal recourse. However, posting a picture of it on a website does not constutiute "use".

Making a vehicle, putting it on, then distributing it... that would be "use"

If it indeed was a secure place, then perhaps you have some recourse against them for that action.

Edit: quick reminder... Lawsuits cost money, lots of money. So if you are willing to spend the required funds to attempt a lawsuit, then thats your prerogative.

Not only that, the only "evidence" you have is a recording and a picture. The court won't take that too seriously because of programs like Adobe Photoshop, if you know what I mean. Even though you didn't doctor anything, you'd still need more proof.

Also, if someone doesn't have their files stored in a secure place, then that's not an excuse to steal them. The fact is, is that the file was still on his server, so taking the file from it and publicly using it could be illegal, regardless if it was not securely stored.

The only thing that would make this illegal is if he claimed it as his own, or used it for something else. And I can't see why he would even want to do either.

Just because I don't WANT Renardin to post here, doesn't make it illegal, this is a public forum.. Same for just because Renardin didn't want Aircraftkiller to find/download that work, still doesn't make it illegal, it was in a public folder.

If you never posted the picture, then that's different. That means he "hacked" the picture out of your folder and posted it, without your permission. Maybe that is illegal, who knows.

If that's the case though, then what was the picture doing in there in the first place? Why didn't you just keep it on your computer's desktop?

Most people that take interest in your mod now are probably going to see it here.

Anything not protected on the internet is free for the public to view. Not use, but viewing it is more that acceptable. Putting 2 z's in front of the name doesn't qualify as protection in most places these days.

I've run a lot of communities in the past (I'll give you proof if you want it), and I've been to a lot of communities. Trust me, all online communities are like this. You have to just take anything anyone says, and accept the fact that there's nothing you can do about it.

If you were more serious about taking legal action, then maybe you shouldn't have posted about it on a public forum. Now you know that with every post you make on a forum, someone will always be the opposition, and arguing with them will achieve nothing.

Anyone else on this forum can type just as fast as you can.

EDIT: By the way, coming on the forum and calling everyone fuckers and complaining about someone bashing your work will not make a community change. It just adds to the hate.

What behavior? Bashing Reborn like I've done steadily for the last two years? All I've done is show the same unit texture that he already showed off. I had nothing to do with "stealing" his work, as I don't care enough to exploit bugs to find this shit he's got stored somewhere.

I'm not going to discuss what is going on behind the scenes, or if anything is going on at all. All I can say is from a professional's POV, this behavior is intollerable. The fact that you didn't use that exploit to steal the files doesn't matter. What does matter is you are willing to take said stolen work, post it in a public place, and LAUGH at them. This is the behavior I am talking about, and it is this same behavior that is going to reach up and bite you in the ass sometime down the road, rather its tonight or some other moment later on.

It doesn't matter to me either way. If we don't work off you then the project is cancelled and I can go back to having free time to work on things that actually have some importance in my life.

It's win-win either way for me, so do whatever you want to do. I'm still going to bash Reborn and there's not a thing anyone will do about it.

Renardin6, you are taking this WAY out of proportion here. If you are ACTUALLY going to talk to someone about your "legal case", please, stop it now before you embarrass yourself!

R = Renardin

J = judge, police, whoever

J: So what you're saying is that your work was stolen and posted on the internet for others to ridicule?

R: Yes!

J: And this Jonathan Holmes, he is the one who stole it?

R: No, someone who goes by "fatcat" did it.

J: Then why are you pressing charges against Jonathan for the theft?

R: Because he post it on the internet and made fun of it!

J: You know, if I had to pursue everyone who made fun of someone's work on the internet, I'd never get any time off and I'd be backed up for years.

R: But this is a serious matter! He is insulting my work!

J: Get the fuck out of here.

I've changed ACK's nickname back. For those of us (like me) who couldn't give a shit less about Reborn, the saying of "Reborn Sucks" by Aircraftkiller is merely an amusement and a trademark of his character. Just like that zeratul guy will always be the one who called ACK a "big jakas". He has been insulting your mod forever now, when are you just going to ignore him? It's like if you have a small child who is whining, you ignore him, and he stops. He's been getting this sort of a reaction out of you for a long time, and he'll continue to do it when you get all bent out of shape and upset like this, it makes him keep doing it.

Bottom line, Renardin, you need to GROW UP a bit, work on your mod, and quit worrying about ACK.

ACK, I've told you time and time again it's old, but you keep doing it. I personally wish you would knock it off, but I don't know what you'd do for kicks if you did.

Well you seem to be right. Anyway I am sure he is more or less behind that problem. The problem is that I have no 'real' proof. So it won't work.

I don't apologize for what I said about the new name of ack that you gave to him. It's not because some idiot ask you something that you have to do it, don't give me lessons about 'growing up' after that.

Furthermore, the Reborn forum is now closed for some days and the internal board will be deleted soon. All the team work will go trough chat on MSN/ICQ and ftp secured server @ Fc7 server.

And Crimson, update this forum before some Reborn fan decides to shut down the whole place (without me involved, but by knowing some of those, it might happen...).

What 'ack' did is a LEAK (or call that like want) and nothing else, posting unauthorized work of Reborn Team.

I don't care about him making fun of it. But seeing my work on the internet without my permission piss me off. If it's not showed to the public, it's maybe because it's not done... duh...

You morons really need to pay attention seeing as this is the second time that I've had to quote myself:

j_ball430For the "it's better than you can do" comment, it's way overplayed and pointless. So what if he couldn't do it? Does that automatically mean he isn't entitled to his opinion? If a company came out with a shitty game, and just because we don't have the skills to do any better does it automatically mean that it's acceptable? If you said yes to any of these questions, you're a fucking retard. It's people like you who make it perfectly acceptable for people to do halfassed jobs. Congratulations, you're corrupting society even more than it already is. Let me ask you this, would you want to drive a car where the workers/machines only were made to do a half-assed job where the bolts weren't tight, welds weren't strong, and the seals weren't sealed correctly?

DarkDeminhidden... but still on the internet. Making it public domain. Kthxdie

I work for a Finance company in Tech Support.

One of the partners of the company have a huge database with practically everybodies personal information (Name, address, DOB, Income, etc..) within the UK & Ireland.

I won't say the company name as I am not allowed to.

But they recently moved from software to web-based.

So all Collectors no longer use software, but the internet to access this onfo.

To be able to withhold this information, they must have a certificate to install on IE. Without the certificate, Access Denied.

Even though all of this information is on the internet, anybody with un-authorized access can be taken to court.

This is a factual metaphor for the data leaked from Reborn forums.

Sure it might not be all the users credit card information.

But things are password and/or permission protected for a reason on the net and they are not for public viewing.

As this is only an image there is pretty much nothing you can do.

However, private data was breached. But I don't know the procedure for that. IMO as this is not an official forum to which has legal rights (i.e. one owned by EA or Nokia for example) there isn't much you can do either.

Andy, but the difference is: They have to have a certificate to access it, which means that they still have some sort of authentication. This isn't true for what happened with Reborn. They didn't even use cookies/certificates or anything else to protect their folder from the preying eyes of the public.

IF this were to ever make it to court, and IF a judgment were to occur in renardin's favor, the mitigating circumstances would be that it was not a protected area, simply hidden. The friend laughs at the picture and shows it to some other friends. Then you sue guy #2 for laughing at your fat mom's picture and showing it to his friends.
