Explain. It has never gone down, has support and is more convenient.

exactly, the only flaw with GSA really is the inability to page while ingame and the ads. Other than that its fine, and doesnt get assrammed all the time.

The ads really arent much of a problem anymore. The number of ads have been reduced, and subcription is dirt cheap. $10/year. GSA is even better now that it has its own ladder.

I've always liked GS...never had any big problems w/ it other than an occasional quirk with the server listing. I don't understand the criticism?

Why do you even bother to post here if you are so disconnected to the game? It's old - you don't like it, then fine. But move on elsewhere please.

No offence, but those who still enjoy the game don't care to hear your negativity. Your indifference has no value here at all.
