That's because FireFuck sucks. Opera opened it just fine, as did Internet Explorer.

Firefox is better than Internet Explorer. Also, it's my own personnel decision to use Firefox instead of Opera. Telling me it sucks isn't going to make me change to Opera (if that's what you're attempting to do).

Well if it's so great, why can't it open a simple website like that? Stop rationalizing, your "super leet browser" is just as efficient as Internet Explorer, except when it comes to doing simple tasks like viewing a website.

It crashed my Opera too. :-\ >

Edit: Now I know why...it's Quicktime's fault.

The mod is kinda cliché (lol did that E crash firefox?). these half life mods seem to centre around blasting the hell out of everything and they tend to get boring if it's all they offer. A better storyline might help this mod out...

ACK is completely right on this one. If your browser crashes with a minor/common error such as that one, then it sucks.

Silent KaneI bet Firefuck has just as many exploits as IE had in the past.

Why would it need exploits? Just put bad HTML code in, and it will crash.

Lol, the site opened perfectly fine for me without any errors, and I'm using Firefox. I have yet to come accross a site that doesn't load properly or crash Firefox.

Quote:Well if it's so great, why can't it open a simple website like that?
Because it can, and did, the problem was with him/his computer not the browser.

If it's a problem with your drivers/plugins/etc. (rather then the program itself) then it's still a problem with your computer.

Times my computer has been compromised as a result of...

IE: at least 12 since mid 2003
FireFox: 0 times since I started using it about 3 months ago.

I have only encountered ONE bug in FireFox. My computer crashed while firefox was open, so that deleted my bookmarks and reset my FireFox settings. Thats all though. I quickly recovered.

The only bug I have found on Firefox is when I press Print or Print Preview, Firefox breaks
This is on both laptop and PC
