you should try the game with every setting turned to minimum in your WWconfig
(c:\westwood\renegade)

search the renguard support section for 'unauthorised game2' and find the topic with the fix.

doesn't matter though, the renegade button accesses the same game executable.

CP1Lite installs only the core elements of the official Core Patch 1, without the new maps, beacon countdown timers etc

All it was, I downloaded a few skins and such. They never worked with renguard and it came up with the same kind of error report. I just thought that might be worth checking, unless the CP1 has sorted that out?

hey zunnie look dude i did everything u gave me n all seems well but...wtf is this that im getting now ?

the procedure entry

point?Detect_Bandwith@ @YAKKKHAAHAAKKPAUtBandtestSettingsStruct@ @PAD>@Z could not be located in the dynamic link library Bandtest.dll.

i have NO idea wut that means dude....uhh got somthin 2 overwirte bandtest something?lol

You didnt update Renegade to version 1.037 then.

I know 100% sure because this "entry

point?Detect_Bandwith@ @YAKKKHAAHAAKKPAUtBandtestSettingsStruct@ @PAD>@Z could not be located in the dynamic link library Bandtest.dll."

error only happens when you have not updated your game prior to installing RenGuard.

Do this:

- Uninstall RenGuard
 - Uninstall Renegade
 - Delete the Renegade folder through windows explorer
 - Install Renegade
 - Update Renegade to v.1037
 - English: v1.037 Update
 - Other Language?: Check for additional Languages
 - Install RenGuard
 - Install Core Patch 1 through RenGuard when asked
