I'm working on a temp at the moment with a kind of rusty metal theme.

It's far from finished at the moment but feedback/constructive criticism would be appreciated.

Looks very nice.

Also, you may want to update your forums to phpBB 2.0.13

Talk to Incognito bout the forum version...

I'm talking bout my post there showing the web layout I'm working on.

Hopefully if it's good enough when it's done I can sell it, but seeing as I have never sold one before how much would this (when finished) retail at do you think?

It is quite good. If you wanna trip it out even more, <http://www.mystic-phoenix.com> has some good tutorials, and PSD's you could get and stick them on there. Pretty neat so far csskillerLooks nice. But HOLY CRAP!!! 100 layers

It will have about 300 when it's done

And deadaim, I love your site! The sounds get annoying but I can live with that. I had a quick browse around, there's some good stuff there

That tube tutorial might come in useful for my next temp.

I already fixed the security problems just by editing the php.
