OK this is how you play. I will type a name and then with the last letter of the name I type you will have to think of a name started with that letter. Then when you think of a name you type it in the forum and then the next person will have to think of a name started with the last letter of that name... and then it goes on and on... OK?

Heres an example; I type Brandon lets say someone comes and types nina, then another guy comes and types Angela.

do you get it?

Ok here's the starting name;

GERARD

Not a proper game as there are name beginnings for every letter of the alphabet. maybe the same name shouldn't be repeated twice....?

this gives me an idea for a completely pointless nameguessing project where you can't enter the same name twice, and the new name must start with the last letter of the previous string.

does anyone remember that story a long time back (real) about 2 teenage guys who had parents so awful and that abused them so much, that they finally had enough; bought shotguns, ran into their living room, blew the parents to kingdom come and hotfooted it off in a car??

I couldn't believe it when they made a reconstruction of it..
