<http://www.clansfv.com>

We are again looking for Renegade Members. SFV is active in about four games with 3 games in our Future. We've had some rough spots in our past, but all of that is put behind us and we are all set and ready to grow and the united clan we once we once again.

SFV will accept any member with decent skill age 14 or above and a high level of maturity. We do not accept selfish or idiotic players with no regard for playing the game with some class.

We have a website, forum, teamspeak, many of the things needed for our clan to expand. If you are interested in joining SFV please visit our website and then our Recruitment Area.

Thanks,
zerk

Exceptions CAN be made, but that is done rarely. The member must talk to a few leaders to make sure the maturity level is high enough.

And I couldn't tell if that was sarcasm or not, so I just answered
