I always get kicked on halfrenguard and full renguard protected servers for suspected cheating. And it always says i'm not running renguard.
I don't cheat and i DO run renguard.

I've read other topics on the same error and there it is always answered with solutions like :

-reinstall renguard or renegade or ur total windows.

-use a different order in which u install the addons like :renguard , the core patches , maps and other renegade addons.

-make sure the loggin window of renguard says: welcome <WITH ur nickname>

None of this is relevant with this error as i even got a new pc AND a different windows version (used to be winME , now it is winXP) and i've tryed all kinds of orders to install renguard and it always gives my nickname in the renguard loggin window.

The only thing i can think of is that i am behind a wireless router and somehow this effects the rengaurd detection.

If any1 KNOWS wut the prob is plz tell me, i wanna shoot ALL the asses that forced rg on me :twisted: and i want to be able to use the commands.

tx 4lot!

I log in tru WOL and it gives the loggin window from renguard first before renegade starts

And one more thing: on the rengaurd site i cant find my nickname with the locator tool.

So eventhough i get the welcome cutlegg mess from renguard and it says i am logged into server #1 or 2 and ive joined a renegade server, i am NOT able to locate my own nickname cutlegg in the locator tool on the renguard website.

Well you could try plugging the comp straight into the modem and see if that works. I dislike wireless..
