Where to begin?

I suppose those of you who know who I am, and know the state of my relationship with the Renegade community will view this post with no small amount of confusion. ..Dare I say anger?

I will make this as brief and to-the-point as I possibly can.

Over the past several months, events in my life have coerced me to take a step back, and evaluate my relationships with others, and truly, the direction of my life as a whole. After much contemplation and reflection, I have come to the conclusion that my life will only ever get back on the right track if I make an earnest attempt to mend the bridges that I have so foolishly burned in my past.

This bridge is one of the many on my list.

I would like to convey my most sincere apologies to those of you who I have hurt. Especially to people like Crimson, Blazer, and Djlaptop, who I have relentlessly criticized and slandered. I would also like to apologize to those people who I have treated unfairly in my time moderating the Clan FUD servers, and people like DaveGMM and Kirby098 who I have started silly vendettas with. Believe me when I tell you that these acts are not ones that I look upon with any sort of pride, and that I realize now how immature and cruel they were.

I'm sorry, and I truly wish that you can find it within yourselves to forgive me, and that we all can work together in making the Renegade community stronger going forward.

With that said, I would like to invite you all to play on the new and improved Clan FUD server. I think I speak for everyone in the clan when I say that I have turned over a new leaf, and that I am hopeful that we can develop a strong working relationship, amongst players who know the game, and know how to play it right.

Thank you.

Am I the only one that senses this is a facade meant to get a bunch of people to join so they can ban them all and place some humorous picture into their banhammer hall?

I didn't ever have much interaction with the WOL community, so I don't know what happened here, and I don't mean to spoil the mood in saying this, but ACK, a "banhammer hall" would be hilarious to see.

say, why do you have "fuck you" in your signature too??

No I do not think they are planning to ban people en mass as a result of this since that would be a waste of time. Playing in their server is still a lot of fun if you count out being banned before and foolish enough to go in again under the same name. still I don't think there will be a "ban free" FUD as long as i'm living

No, I sensed it as well. After my previous "discussion" with taskbot7, there is no doubt that we will be swiftly banned if we try to play in there.

well, why don't you go there and find out? Report back if you do actually get banned, and then we can call bullshit on this thread.

I've uninstalled Renegade, and I'm not about to reinstall just to get banned. Why don't you go?

The Banhammer Hall is the greatest creation since FUD itself, FYI.

Bullshit, you twat; why don't you post, for reference, the last announcement you made to the community? I can't say where to begin, but I certainly hope you end as soon as possible.

Taskbot made a new wallpaper summing up the FUD philosophy, which can be found here.

Meh, I'm willing to give it a "sincerity vote" (If that's what you want to call it).
They haven't done anything in the past regarding false appologies of this kind, so there is no basis to assume otherwise at the moment.

I'm not saying that there is no hidden agenda (whatever it may be, if it exists), but the appology seems to be sincere.

Of course it goes without saying, you only get one chance to fool me.

Like the Bush quote? Fool me once, can't get fooled again or something like that?

I'm with warranto. I cautiously agree that it seems sincere, and I hope it is, because the world has enough hate in it already and life is too short to hold grudges. I don't even know taskbot7 personally, which is one of the reasons I always found it odd why he lashed out the way he did against me and others for seemingly no reason. If indeed he has changed his ways, I applaud his effort and think he will be better off for it.

I never cared what you thought about me and I've always felt your dislike towards me was misdirected, and should have been towards the members of n00bstories.com who don't necessarily share my opinion on server and server owners in the community.

That being said, your actions speak louder than words. Sincere or not, I didn't care then, and I don't care now. But if you truly do wish to improve your attitude, I would never stand in your way and would welcome the change.

FYI, we have games every Friday night around 9-10PM central that everyone is welcome to attend. We usually play the regular maps but occasionally play some DM as well, and Teamspeak is available and encouraged.
