Ok. im looking for new skins. not the Havocs with pink nipples and rainbow colored C4. decent skins. just aggregates,mostly. nothing that'll change gameplay..just some decent and fun skins. (though a hard-to-see Stealth would be cool.)

Not to sound a little strange but... Sickoptometrist has some mad skillz!

Not only will he help you with your eyes, but he will also baconize your APC! How is that for service!

Ok...I'm done now.

Yup, he sure did

Now I have to go into photoshop and make the image smaller so the load time isn't 1.5 days.

I don't know if you know about this or not, but I'll tell you anyway.

In Photoshop go to File>Save for web and you will be able to reduce file sizes a LOT.

I just did that and the difference between that and the highest quality JPG version was only 200kb.

Glyde, you don't need to resize all of the images. Just use HTML to do that, and make it a link to the full version (called a thumbnail). But it isn't the best way, it still loads the entire image, so I guess resizing the picture for the thumbnail image would be better.
