I've been involved in quite a few of these so far (NoN00bs vs Renstation, NoN00bs vs Optical Gaming, and some of the Renstation ASGs) and this evening we did NoN00bs.net vs Clanwars.cc. (Myself leading the NoN00bs team)

Games were fun as hell, scores ended up as NoN00bs 3 - CW 2... and these are definitely the highlights of the games, documented by Remek...

Other stuff...

If there are any other large clans / communities who want to take part in future events of this kind, give me a shout...

with a ping of 600 and SFPS of 10, I would have to pass that opportunity by.. what was going on with the server?

nice SS though, your chems got completely owned.

That was my bad...

We had problems with our server PCs which we only got fixed about ten minutes before the game... so we didn't use the server we planned on using. So naturally I forgot to disable hyperthreading and those stupid-ass crates, weapons drop, etc.

He must be talking about when the site had them up because I remember him in IRC talking to matt about it some months ago.

SpoonyWe have a four more of these scheduled in May

To the other three communities, be forwarned.. you WILL be accused of cheating, even if you are all running RenGuard.. Two hours after the "Pits vs noN00bs" matches, we have a 9 page thread accusing us of cheating, even though we lost and every single player on our team was on RenGaurd..

If you don't care about having to defend yourself against these types of accusations, play on.

why would I be pissed? I was at the movie with my daughter through the whole thing.. There is no personal pride lost in our community losing, only in the incessant accusations by you and the actual DDOS of our player by yours.

Have fun with your other games.

Nope, no pride lost by losing a game. Pride by losing a game when there's a final renegade user on your team, on the other hand....

A final Renegade user on RenGuard.. better tell Crimson, Blazer and Mac.

Like I said folks, if you don't mind being accused of cheating, and being DDOS'd when you use !forcerg on their players, have fun.

Again? This isn't the first time I caught someone cheating in a Renguard server, as the three names you just mentioned are perfectly aware.

msgtpainLike I said folks, if you don't mind being accused of cheating, and being DDOS'd when you use !forcerg on their players, have fun.
And if you like playing against someone who uses final renegade in a tournament match and if you like the rest of their team trying their best to cover for him, have fun in the Pits.

You're the same idiot that goes around accusing people of cheating when they use RenGuard. Remember all those times I shot you up with an APC or an Orca and you kept saying "I know you're using something, fess up to it already" even though RenGuard reported me as being online?

No doubt it's the same treatment you gave C4miner when you harassed him for killing you constantly, etc... Either you support RenGuard or you don't, stop picking and choosing what will suit the next argument you get into.

I've lost count of the number of times I was playing in the Pits with Renguard and they accused me of bypassing it. But when it's a Pits player who's accused, Renguard is conclusive evidence that a person is not cheating and they don't have to provide a screenshot, right?

I thought you were ignoring me?

You were banned for cheating on BC servers, do we really have to go over this for the 38th time? It had nothing to do with cheating on our server while using RenGuard.

Spoony, that's hard to believe, since most of the times you played on our server it was with one of your 37 names that no one in the game knew.

I admit, people may "think" someone is cheating, but when they use !rg and find out you're on it, have you ever been banned for cheating? Ahh... so we do trust it, eh?

I have no idea. Both the occasions I was banned from the Pits for "cheating", I was running renguard. However, I have no way of knowing whether I was checked for this.

Isn't it weird how I was courteous enough to give every single Pits player the chance to prove they weren't cheating? I was given no such courtesy.

I, for one, find it incredibly funny that The Shits forums have been almost completely dead until the arrival of a 20 page bitch fest that's just making their "community" more pathetic than it already was.

Ack's obviously talking about his RenAlert community.. The Pits has been around since May of 2002 with almost 2000 total members to date and over 122,000 posts.. He obviously isn't talking about The Pits community.

Subject: Community Matches
Posted by Aircraftkiller on Mon, 16 May 2005 23:20:28 GMT

How many of those posts were before that bitch fest thread? Oh right, you had about two posts a day at that point. Discounting that thread, you still pretty much hover around 15 to 20 posts per day.

The Shits:

Our members have made a total of 122015 posts
We have 1996 registered members

A Path Beyond:

Our members have made a total of 127125 posts
We have 838 registered members

Well hot damn. We have more posts with less members, and all it took was one year since that forum was opened up in 2004. We've had about three times that amount considering we've changed forums and websites at least twice.

You lose, care to try again?

I was merely pointing out that other communities have the potential to experience a similar thread if they play against your people. However, as I said before, this shouldn't be bleeding into these forums, so I am locking this thread.
