I am having a problem with our server on GSA, I can upload the maps I want into the server but the rotation doesnt change. When I do !rotation it shows me the maps I just put in there and the correct rotation but it does not execute it, it seems like its locked in a default rotation or something, any ideas ? I type gameover now and resert back to the start map on the rotation but it still stays the same. Its starting to get on my nerves cuz the server has been down for over a month, we can play on it but not the maps i want.

You can't change maps in server.ini.

You have to change them in svrcfg_cnc.ini

This config file should be in the data folder.

Yes I changed the svrcfg_ini file, we finally got it to work Sunday it downloaded the rotation but I changed the name on the serverinfo but it still comes up the same, we talked to morphix about it and hes going to look into it, he said there is something not right about it and hell take care of it, so thanks guys.
