There's this organization named UCAWWW (United Confederacy Against WWW) that is trying to shut down the internet, by broadcasting it... on the internet. What's even better is that they have a petition to ban the internet, on none other than then internet. I was bored, and in the mood to make fun of these idiots, so I made the following graphic:

Instead of looking at it that way, you could look at it at the way in the sense that they're not trying to control you...

They have some points. The internet is horrible, and it does warp kiddos. However, I kinda like it so... I guess it probably shouldn't be banned.

The question isn't how; you just remove all the cables and make it a law not to ever reconnect them. The question is who would actually want to do that.

Texas is almost without a doubt the crappiest state in the Union. 47th in SATs, last in high school graduation, and more executions than any other state, aided by Bush, who executed more people as governor than any other doesn't help, either.

Few states could produce:

- A) George W. Bush
- B) The Minute Men of mainstream media "fame"
- C) This group, apparently [UCAWWW]
- D) Basically the worst-educated youth group in the country

...And still think they're the best.

Yes, I know, I'm a homosexual skinhead nazi terrorist for saying these things about Texas. You don't have to remind me.

Whatever you say sunshine

Not to mention we all know Ohio is the Crappiest state. Just having Ohio State University in their state made them the crappiest state. (Im a UofM fan if you can't tell.)

Fuck Ohio. They stole our land, and they have Ohio State University. I mean, that right there is warrant enough to kick those bastards out of the U.S. The only thing is, they DID help Bush to win this election. Though, if Ohio wasn't a part of the nation, it still wouldn't have mattered.

Oblivion165But Texas....Ah, man just something about it. Here i am stuck in North Carolina. Pfft.

Chapel Hill is the place to be.

EDIT: Funny story about Ohio, namely how they're the most corrupt state in the nation...

A guy they have there, Tom Noe, was authorized, under the table, to invest money in rare coins by the Ohio Bureau of Workers Compensation. He's a rare coin dealer. He was authorized to invest 50 million dollars of this state money in rare coins. Currently, several coins are missing, each valued at 1-200,000 dollars. When finally questioned about this by the Toledo Blade, it was declared the coins were "stolen" but no police report had been filed. When this case went to the State Supreme Court, 5 of the 7 justices recused themselves.

Doesn't that just smell.

Alabama > Texas

Hell, I'm from half way around the world and even I know that Texas ain't all it's cracked up to be, really...Alabama is just that much more better, I mean Lynyrd Skynyrd and all such, been there once...

Anyway, those people are fucking idiots, I mean honestly, ban the internet? How about we ban farting next, it'd be EASIER.

I mean apparently Texas produced THESE idiots: <http://www.godhatesfags.com/main/index.html> among their nice little pickets they have... "GOD HATES AMERICA" - "GOD BLESS 9/11" and all such, also they have one of some Democrat raping another in the ass, so they aren't 'liberals' or any such...

See? I'm telling you, Alabama has to be one of the coolest states.

The UCAWWW is obviously a joke. It's obviously a joke from the first signature. Also, how can you really know that the "usersigned" are really from where they say they are? Most are probably joking about being from Texas.

It's also important to remember that standardized tests aren't a measure of intelligence, even the College Board and ETS don't say that (At least to my knowledge). Just because some people do things differently doesn't mean they're stupid or ignorant. I really expected better out of an "enlightened" person (That means you, SuperFlyingEngi).

Now back to my homework.

No, I somehow don't think that the UCAWWW is fake. There are people who actually agree with this idea. Of course, the majority obviously doesn't.
