Ok, i did make this for the UC community, but as i am a nice kinda guy, why not add summin like this into the load sub of Renguard?

I have posted the application [not here -- removed] and the source code here this would make all rengaurd users lives alot easier...

the readme in the zip will tell u what to do... and ull see what its for...

Copy of what i posted on other foums... **

*1* U know whan u start up rengaurd and sometimes it logs onto rengaurd in one of your names u didnt want to, well this app chages a few things and makes it so that the name u type in will be the name that rengaurd logsin with... so have fun.. READ THE INSTRUCTIONS... THEY ARE VERY IMPORTANT...*

*2* Yeah, lol, it is kinda hard to explain... hmm, when u start up rengaurd, it connects u to the rengaurd network... usually as the last player to login on WOL. However if u didnt want to use the name rengaurd has logged in with, u sually haveto go all the way into WOL, login as the desired name, exit renegade, restart rengaurd... and then do the entire thing again.. What this does is illiminates most of this...

When u start game.exe u r propted with a screen, asking to for the name u want rengaurd to login with, rengaurd then uses this to login with and saves u from having to go into wol and then back out...

did that make any sence?*

There u go... I posted it here...but Crimson removed it

I sometimes just change it in regedit before I start up renguard. Might not be a bad idea to have an option you can set to decide whether it should prompt you with this each time you logon. Or make it have an option to remember your name.

doesnt WOL store a list of names you have logged in with in the reg tables thingy?
maybe in the next version of renguard it could have a little drop down list O_o

SK had made a little app that did that (looked in the registry and made a list)... but it always set mine to "crimsson" and for some reason mac makes things case-sensitive so it would say I wasn't on RenGuard because I'm "Crimsson" in WOL. I'll check this out.

[Edit: Never mind -- you're going to need to link to a copy that doesn't have a link to a cheat site in the README. The link is removed from your post.]

XeonTeamdont worry i use another s/n for eveything else, none of you even realise... I doubt noone would be able to find your other name. All it takes is for you to make a single mistake, and *BAM*... the two can be linked.

XeonTeamso i dont know how u can still consider me as being bad...I dunno, the mere fact that you're admitting to using aliases, that kinda proves you have a hidden agenda. The big question is what is that agenda?

But let's get back to the topic; RenX. It seems like a nice program for when you're too lazy to load up Renegade and login/logout...

No, it's Renegade he wants to destroy, though he doesn't have sufficient wit to realise that.
