I rarely lie, so what would I gain from posting this besides personal satisfaction that both DA and Titan1xassrammer are horrible artists, and that Reborn sucks?

In fact it would be in my best interests for a humorous thread were the images recent and not from three months ago. By their own admission, they're not doing any real work on levels because they have no buildings to finish them with. So instead of getting them ready to put in, we get this untextured garbage and levels from Renegade that sucked ass and had no modifications done to them.

Do some fact checking champ, and use some logic.

Renegade's engine somewhat limits the quality of the game itself. Personally, I like the concept of TS being implemented into Renegade. The models and textures don't bother me much because I run on lowest settings anyway to maximize my FPS at all times. From what I've seen, some of it looks pretty good while other things don't (like the mole tank dildo machine). Overall, I think it'll be fine once they get some progress done and I'll probably download it to try it out.

You don't have to be able to do better to critise. Where the hell did you get that idea from?

I'll sum my opinions on this up with one quote:

My god man... how far do you have to go to mask the fact that you ARE the most insecure soul on these boards. Damn dude... chill out and worry about your own mods and stop beating down other people for trying to make something that doesn't meet your specific approval.

I've watched this for years and yet you still hover these forums looking for fights like a 10 year old.

That's why mine are in the game itself, in both core patches, and are the most played and downloaded in the game... Because they're not playable.

How many people you actually see playing on your maps..? Maybe I should start laughing now, because even though your map was included in the official patch it is recognized as the worst "official" map that came out which nobody plays.. I'd like to add that this was your best piece of work anyway.. Glacier actually had the best gameplay of all maps that you made..

I'm not gonna even mention Core Patches maps.. not worthy my effort.

Before I stopped playing, I often found games of 24+ players running my levels without emptiness.

Quote:it is recognized as the worst "official" map that came out which nobody plays..

A lot of people play it. I don't like it, because it was made when I was getting familiar with Max. That's why I re-released it as Glacier and GlacierTS.
