We lost about three hours of posts today after Spoony, aka MaidenTy1, also known as co-owner of "n0n00bs" Renegade servers, decided he would take out his anger on you, the community by trying to delete these forums. Fortunately for you, and unfortunately for him, I have backups taken even 6 hours, so we didn't really lose much at all.

Show your appreciation as you wish. And remember:

[MaidenTy1]: : take a quick peek at renegadeforums. it's been fun

Because part of the attack today was carried out by distributed code to bots. It's clever, of course, because it makes it difficult to pin down one attacker by IP. There also seems to be some sort of relationship to a soon-to-be-shut-down website that was hosting a password stealing script that many of you may have fallen victim to.

Blazer and I are still going through all the data: but a few things are clear.

- 1) The person who did this has a modicum of talent (not "smart" but smarter than most script kiddies)
- 2) The attack's effects were NOT worth the effort obviously put into the attack considering I was able to fix everything within a few minutes of actual work.

We are pretty sure several passwords were stolen, but they are MD5 hashes which will have to be bruteforced to see in plain text, but can currently be used to log in as any user whose password was stolen. In fact, the attacker (who I'm 99.9% sure is Spooky or was ordered by him) is possibly already posting under other people's accounts.

your little statement right there proves how "smart" you really are. Plus no one here except you is running around claiming to have hacked crimson's forums. and as for your clan member that supposedly didn't cheat...your little friend s2luga admitted to cheating in a public server....and I believe your clan's response was fuck public servers they are all shit anyways. So with that aspect in mind...maybe all server owners should just ban your little clan...or wait...yeah LoD split up. Maybe they should all just ban your retarded ass from the servers.

cowmisfitLook at Spoony and that other idiots post, they're all like 2 minutes or less apart, same person?

You definitely are a dumbass. Before you jump to conclusions about ANYTHING, get someone to check the IPs, then talk your shit.

Do you guys really think that Spoony did this? He might be pretty gay sometimes, but he'd never fuck up this forum seeing as he cares a lot about the community, the game, fairplay etc. He's also not an idiot, he wouldn't have fucked up these forums seeing as it is obvious that you can backup the database whenever you feel like it. Before you idiots call anyone anything, take a damn good look at the mirror and think again.

Most of you are some ignorant fucks that think they're the shit at this game or whatever because they have support from a bunch of other idiots who also don't have a clue they're idiots. Honestly, just because Crimson hosts 27 servers, spends all her time finding glitches and moderating a forum you can't all act like she's god or something. Others do things similar to her doings. She's nothing really, just some stupid bitch looking for the attention she couldn't get in real life. Don't believe her just because she's the admin, look at the evidence. Most of you just make posts with statements that can't be backed up and get support from all your other friends, and because Crimson OK's it you think you're right. Crimson's an idiot in most cases. I've never had a problem with the bitch but I know it, I've heard of it. You guys are so stupid, stop following her every move, be your own person. It's obvious that Crimson is just jumping to conclusions, and it's obvious that you believe everything she says. If you guys really weren't stupid, you'd see that.
