Oh, me to. I would absolutely love to see that things death animation. I just hope it isnt like the normal Ren buildings, and they dont emit a puff of flame and blacken slightly. That really pisses me off, considering how much shit those buildings normally go through. (Tanks, Beacon, alot of C4 on the outside...)

I don't like these. Sorry Renardin, but the WF still bears a striking resemblance to bigfoot with his mouth open (wtf?), plus I think you hold too much regard to graphics rather than gameplay, if someone puts a beacon in that thing, or near it, I'd like to see anybody find it in time.

The Cyborg Gun texture seems kinda' bad, looks too plasticky the model's okay.

Well sorry for the big foot aspect, westwood designed the stuff.

Finding a beacon might be hard that's why we have a script for that. we can decide where we can plant beacons. I mean we can decide that only a beacon placed at first floor or outside the building could destroy the building. Anyway, you found something that must be discussed, I will talk about it with the team.

That's terrible PR right there; Renardin is supposed to be going out of his way to attract more people to the mod; he should do so by posting as many screenshots as possible rather than telling us to go look around ourselves for their updates.

And calling all of us lazy is an even worse way to get more people interested in that pathetic piece of shit called Reborn.

The inside... leaves much to be desired. "but we add consoles latr" Okay, but what about the texture fuckups? It's a level in itself, so let's have some ambient noise and varied lighting, some places to take cover.

I beleive this calls for another one:

Your message board incompetence is an inspiration to botched lobotomy patients everywhere. Clearly, you spend way too much time in darkened rooms in front of your seven-year-old computer turning a whiter shade of pale. Go outside once in a while and breathe, before your brain starts to rot from all that festering stagnation and cognitive dysfunction.

I don't know what makes you such a worthless poster, but it really works! You must have a very large brain to hold such a vast amount of sheer ignorance. If you knew what you're talking about, you'd be dangerous. To quote Thomas Brackett Reed: "They never open their mouths without subtracting from the sum of human knowledge."

I'm busy trying to imagine you with a personality. Maybe you'd be less boring once I got to know you, but I don't want to take that chance. If you called the Suicide Hotline, they'd say: "Go ahead. Do it!" Maybe you wouldn't read like such a pathetic loser if didn't lack even the dim flicker of sentience needed to qualify as a imbecile; if you weren't so fat that when you stand on the weighing scale, it reads: "Sorry, we don't weigh livestock.", or if you didn't have a face that is registered as a biological weapon. Who am I kidding? You would.

In closing, I suggest the next time that you feel an urge to embarrass yourself and bore others, that you summon all your might, and resist.

I'm still trying to understand where this guy comes from on the subject of "having a life". If he means having a life, as defined by living, then we all have a life. If he means having a life, by means of a social life, then I wonder what kind of social life someone who tells others to "get a life" has when he spends more time online than those he accuses does.

Oh holy Asscrackfiller, please tell me, how do you want to know how much i'm online? Theres things called laptops, even if you dont seem to be able to afford one.

Sure. Ask your mom how good i am at finding entrances/exits.

I don't need a laptop, so I have no intention to purchase one. You do realize by saying what you just did, you personify the very core of those you say have "no life"? You sound exactly like a PC user from the late 80s and early 90s. "You can't afford a PC so I'm better than you!"

That's nice. You're still online too much to complain about the social lives of anyone else.

Furthermore, the entire premise that you're worried about anyone else's "social life" is telling of your own. Probably because you have none and are taking your weak-minded aggression out on people that won't be able to reach out and slam their fist into your jaw.

I never said I was better than you because I can afford a laptop. I wonder, what makes you feel that way? I do think I am better than you, yeah, but that has other reasons.

Won't be able why? Because this is a forum? I don't think there's anyone on these forums who could even scratch me if I stood right in front of him.

Hello. I'm here to talk to you about an important topic. Yourself.

You seem to fail at finding a social life. Why, you ask? You can't seem to wrap your head around the fact that you can have a social life online. Now, if you're like me, you might even have a group of friends outside of the Internet to hang out with! Wow! That's right! There is an outside the internet!

I hope you realize not to judge someone's life over the Internet. Fag.

If you guys want, I can make up bingo cards based on his oh-so-uncommon (sarcasm) phrases. Then we can play Asshole Bingo, covering the matching spot on our sheet each time he talks. Come on, it'll be fun, and give a purpose to this guy's presence in the world.

This one went way off!

I can walk about 2 miles in about 40 minutes, give or take.

And on a side note. Although I dont think this has anything to do with anyone, Laptops are not hideously expensive. You can pick a good one up now for about £600 to £700 (,some can be found for £500.) I would rather have my pc though. I don't have to carry my pc from place to place and I don't have to worry about dropping it, or some asshole making a grab for it.

edit... not really sure about that last part.
