Well on your FDS, as for your channel not being created, usually means you set the MOTD too long or you have your game name too long or something.

Failing to creat game channel isnt anything to do with mIRC, its when the FDS logs into the wol system and attempts to host the game.

BRenbot is the one that connects to irc. If thats what is displaying "Disconnected from IRC "irc.blabla.com"" then either just restart the bot, or make sure you have the correct irc channel and server in your brenbot config.

If that doesnt sort it, PM me and ill help you out further.

sometimes Brenbot fails to connect to irc try:

home.n00bstories.com irc.n00bstories.com
ownage.n00bstories.com

different ones like the above then it should work ok now brenbot can work with irc. but commands cant work in irc. I tried !rules in irc,nothing happened. but if i did !help, commands would appear but i cant use them. next, when a person enters my server, the bot would report that he/she is in game. but if u did !gi, it says no players. I do not know why.

make sure that allow remote admin in your server.ini is true, the remote admin passwords are the same as well as the ports this is probably a port problem so check that they are the same. If they are change it to soemthing else and it should work
