The clan and name systems on WOL are a bit temprenalal (you can blame EA for that), but I would suggest go and make a new email (such as a free yahoo one) and use that to register a new nickname.

By the way, why would you want to change ur birthday info? It dont affect gameplay and you can logon and use the nickname even if the email is invalid.

You dont actually have to use a real email address. For instance use abcdefghij@klmnop.com with the username you want and it works just fine.
