ping 208 is GOOD for renegade, and kbps 97 is also good.

I have a 2mb connection and get about the same.

It also depends on the servers upload speed....and how many players are demaning a share of the bandwidth

I'm on 1mbps wireless but when/where I play, most of the places I go I end up with a ping around 150 and kbps 100+. Don't stick around long anywhere with either SFPS under 35 or ping above 210 or so, or you're just asking for the server to ignore every other shot you take.

Press ` or F8 when your in game and type:

sbbo 1500500 [then enter] nur 30 [then enter]

That will increase your bandwidth usage and improve your kbps

Also btw:
Your kbps increases when there are more players in game, if there are only 10 players in game your kbps will be LOWER than when there are over 20 players in the game.

Also depends on your location in relation to the server, i have up to a 10Mbps connection and the best ping i usually get in Renegade is any where from 180 - 350, and that is alright for me. The reason for this is because i live in australia, so depending where you live, your distance from the server will probably affect it, well at least if you are in another country.

I wonder if there's a way to bind those two console commands to a key permenantly. Or even two keys. People like me can't remember stuff like that, sad as it is to admit.

You need more of a shortcut? Those are actually the short versions, I believe.

you sure about this? I tried it and I think it just made my game lag even more

See, this is why I respect Lijitsu. Unlike some people, he doesn't go flying off the handle whenever some says something utterly stupid. He writes a longwinded and serious responce to the person in question and then, if he's feeling cheeky, adds in an amusing picture under that with typical Internet Lingo on it which relates to the picture. That. . .and he types properly.

Well thanks, Mr. Collins. I randomly find those images on different forums. I got that particular one, and the SPAM one on the http://www.Xfire.com Forums. Xfire is a free gaming hours tracker/in game IM service. Basically, it allows you to see how long youve been playing a certain game, and functions as Yahoo! Instant Messenger in a game. And out of games, actually.
Thats a pretty funny picture, aint it? Ive had it for almost a month now, and it still cracks me up.

At the WOL login screen hover over the yellow bar on the left, and select:

My Information;

Then select your connection speed as LAN/T1.

Heh, I was just about to say that.

Personally, I have mine set at "Cable Modem," but I'm debating knocking it back further, to ISDN, even though I have more than enough bandwidth on this side to use "Cable Modem".

Did either of you notice what is connection speed was.

2.2mbps connection

Firstly i dont know where we get the 0.2 from. Also, setting it to LAN/T1 will surely sort out all his problems, apart from his chronic back pain.

You don't know what kinda junk he has running in the backround using the Internet connection. So, as a fail safe, I always suggest setting it to Cable Modem.

ADVICE TO HIM THEN:

DONT RUN ANYTHING IN THE BACKGROUND LIKE I DO!

I allways have little programs running in the background, but non of them eat up my downstream.
