Fuck EA:

"planetcnc.com"Top Story: EA's Next RTS: BFME2 Comment!

Sunday, July 24, 2005, 12:49 | HeXetic

Nick over at Middle-Earth Vault is reporting that German gaming magazine GameStar has run a preview of Battle for Middle-Earth 2. Apparently, the sequel will cover a part of the Lord of the Rings story only mentioned in passing in the books: the war in the North, where Sauron's forces besiege the Dwarves and the Elves.

Have a look at the pics on HdR-Inside and be sure to read the summary of the news at MEV.

Hmmm. Dwarves, Elves, Humans, Evil things. Spider-men. Buildings placed anywhere. Customizable heroes. Gee, this certainly looks nothing like a game from three years ago.

No, because then when they finally start making it you'll cry about how EA's gonna ruin the C&C story and blah blah blah...

Shut the hell up.

It will suck.

But it's still CNC.

bigejoe14, you are the strongest of the weakest links. Goodbye.

I agree about the game but that is the worst line a person could use.

Only if they make the game suck. If it doesn't suck, I won't complain. Not that difficult of a concept. Fact is, BFME sucked. I got bored with it quicker than I did a Mod for Renegade. So congrats and good luck EA, on making Suck2.

Hey, gbull? Remember Generals? Remember that, huh? EA Games made Generals and stuck the "Command & Conquer" name on it because they thought it'd be funny. Do you really want to see something like Generals happen to "Command & Conquer: Tiberian Twilight" or "Command & Conquer: Red Alert 3"? No. . . If EA is going to make another Command & Conquer game, it'll probably be "Generals II". At least, if they're smart and don't want to incur the wrath of a bunch of angry Westwood Studios fans with nothing better to do.

EA sucks, though, I like Generals. BUT, EA will probobly never pull through in the CNC Universe. I have been following the news about the so called "project" for "Red Alert 3" at cncgames.com. I don't think EA is going to do anything.

C&C is dead, long live C&C.

It died with Westwood, and nothing EA does is ever going to bring it back, no matter how many times they use the title.

The only game I want made is a sensible sequel to redalert. If they can get that right, they can do what ever the hell they like.

The sensible sequel to Red Alert, is Command & Conquer 1: Tiberian Dawn.

There is no way you could make a sensible sequel to Red Alert 2, since RA2 itself wasn't sensible.

I think he means to have it in a FPS environment like Renegade but in an more up to date engine.

RA2 was a huge, gaping wound. The lack of long-term support for Renegade was the salt in the wound. Generals was the rabid dog pissing on the grave.

selfThe lack of long-term support for Renegade was the salt in the wound.

To clarify. Ren = awesome. EA's support for Ren = fucking horrific.

RA2 was not awful, but in all honesty it did not belong in the C&C universe.

*Edit: And as for Generals, There's only one thing to be said about Generals. That one thing is that IT does not belong in the same sentence as the title of Command & Conquer.
