Ok first I am going to tell you what i got as far as patches and updates.

I have the newest Renegade upgrade and i use the Core Patch.

Now I'm going to let you know what i did.

First off, I went to www.renguard.com shortly after i clicked DOWNLOADS. Now following that i started downloading the Renguard Client from the Renguard website.

I then saved the RenGuard_setup _1.03 to my computer.
The setup was saved in the Westwood folder.

Everything went well it started downloading it finished downloading then on my Windows XP the window opened up & ask me to run the setup install wizard.

So i ran it (note it installed in under 2 seconds) following a window opened, this window. (now heres the problem now what? and how do i log on to renguard.?)

I don't see the problem. Just run the game normally and RenGaurd will pop up instead.

Keep in mind that the first time you run it, you will have to log on to WOL/gamespy then quit. This is because Renguard reads the last nick you logged in with. The first time running it, it won't have any nick to use.

Aren't you the guy I caught cheating in non00bs, you were stupid enough to post a screenshot of yourself using bigheadbox, then after I banned you you flooded the forums with images that makes IE crash?

I'm just asking.
