Restart your server for a start, but you have probably already tried that.

the problem is not that it happened, the problem is I want to understand how it happened. Is it a bug, cheat, ... ???

All i can tell from that is that someone was using a name hack (i think). Maybe it was justa bug though that displayed the rest.

This symptomology occurs because the Ren FDS is too dumb to notice players who join thru IP and add them to the internal kick/ban/... playerlist. I KNOW that this bug occurs with !kick/!ban/!tban (we found that out the hard way when XeonTeam showed up in the HT server), I'll have to check (I occasionaly join thru RenIP when BOTH my WOL nicks get glitched on a server (my GSA/ASE is broken)) if this shows up with !atm/!forcerg/!warn... You cannot /page or !page a player who has joined thru RenIP either. It is a very subtle bug/EA "feature"/exploit. P.S. I do NOT steal other people's nicks...

I do have silent kane's name exploit fix though... But I guess it does not keep all renip-joiners out.

I still wonder how this guy gets the ip of our server...

Is there a way of preventing someone to join through renip?

Are you sure he was actually ingame? !pi on BrenBot doesn't update everytime its called, so he might have been ingame earlier but left. Most likely not any kind of hack or exploit, just a glitch in BrenBot.

Its definately not a hack or a cheat. I had this several times in the past :S
Appears sometimes brenbot doesnt 'relize' someone has left the game or something , or confuses him with a different player.
Simular to the bug where a player would show as a GDI player while he is actually on Nod and is "treasoneously" killing players.
A server and/or brenbot restart usually fixes it, sometimes a gameover also fix it.
