Sometimes half the people don't even cheat anyways, if so, it's so obvious that they are banned in seconds. Me personally, stopped playing because I got banned from several servers (EVEN WITH RENGUARD!) and banned from one server twice! (LIKE...OMG/WTF!!!)

PS: I suck now, haha!

Skillz > Cheats

If you are using "mess with the best, die like the rest..." phrase for your signature, you must also be familiar with the phrase "moo, you are all cattle to me".

Also, i dont understand why you think we have no skill.

Sure, i use cheats, but do ya think i use em 24/7, if so ya wrong, i dont. Also, i dont use cheats to gain any type of respect or owt. I justwant to do the same as Cyberpunk, make EA thinkabout what they did 2 renegade, by dumping it.

EA doesnt care about Renegade anymore you dumbshit, they don't do support for it, and they barely keep WOL running. All you're doing is being an ass, just like Cyberpunk. Good work champ

That is by far the most saddest thing I've ever seen anyone ever post.

1. There is absolutely no reason anyone should put in cheats. None. None at all.
2. I'll bet 200$ that you suck ass at this game. No offense or anything.
3. If you seriously for one half of a second believed that EA will do anything to stop cheaters/bugs/whatever just because some mindless idiot thinks he's doing a good job?

Well, good job jolly ol' fellow, you deserve a pat on the back for your mind-shattering logic.

You're just some stupid kid who needs some sort of reason to cheat at this game. Look. You suck - get over it

Your opinion has nothing to do with that. I swear to god, your intelligence is extremely low, and the way you type really reflects your intelligence too. You're hurting the community using cheats, and your reason for that is to wake up EA Games. Of course, it's impossible to even get their attention, so an opinion can't even change that.

It's not my opinion that I spend about $250-300 per month for the RenGuard network with very little help from the community. The work of you and other cheaters isn't hurting EA one tiny little bit. You aren't even a fly on the wall to them. Without people like Blackhand Studios, Renegade would have died for everyone but cheaters and turned into a cheater vs. cheater war with only a few servers up. EA's income from Renegade, if anything, barely covers the cost of keeping the WOL server(s) online. They don't care about this game and no amount of cheating ever will.

And yes, I know about at least one of your other identities on here, and I don't care. There are way too many people with access to that to trust that everyone is legit.

The more I think about this, the more I get pissed off. If mac decided to stop working on RenGuard, if v00d00 decided to stop working on RenGuard 1.04, if I decided to stop paying for servers for RenGuard... what do you think would happen? If RenGuard ceased to exist, what do you think would happen? I'll tell you. For a few days everything would be OK, but more and more people would take advantage of the complete lack of protection and every game would be ruined. A few servers will change to password-only to weed out the unknown players, but they would be frustrated by lack of participation and shut down. Other servers would just shut down. After a month or two, there would be like 10 hardcore die-hard servers online and every game would be a cheater vs cheater game... the one with the best cheats wins. And that's assuming there are any servers able to stay online through the cheaters and script kiddies attacking each other.

And what would EA do? Shrug, maybe shut off the WOL servers if they can even find them/it... used as a footwarmer under some secretary's desk.

Bottom line. They don't care. The only ones who care are BHS. When you fuck with Renegade, you fuck with us, and us only.

(And of course all the players who want to play fair, and the server owners who try their best to keep a clean game)

Alright, Xeon, suppose you do happen to bring EA's attention to Renegade? What will they do? You really think they would care about this game? They would probably think: "Oh, look! People are having fun playing that game online! Lets shut down the old WestWood Online feature, and make them all play on GSA! Or, better yet, lets make a recall of every single Renegade ever made!" Is that really what you want? You really want them to do something like that? If not, i suggest you sit down, shut up, and keep off our servers.

Oh, and one more thing. Stop cheating, retard.

Oh well, I guess the lack of anything else to do hit him hard.

De7 is right... anyone who spends as much time making cheats as you or cyberpunk does has gotta suck at the game, there's no two ways about it.

The first agrument/reason to justify developing cheats was to destroy Crimson and Blazer's reputation. This explains why the first cheat was made in Crimson's name. The people who developed the cheats hated the couple so much they wanted to destroy the game, thus destroying their hobby.

Now this is the most recent argument, which contradicts the first (true) reason for the development of cheats. EA does not and will not care. The people (ie Xeon) who propose this argument are either misguided and delusional, or they are lying. The latter explanation makes more sense. Or perhaps the originators of this excuse are leading misguided into believing in it, making a mixture of the two.

Making cheats for an old online computer game that wasn't even very popular is not that great. At least the people making Renguard have a clear and rational purpose: to continue to enjoy their favorite game. Does your life revolve around destroying a couple's favorite game for everyone as an act of revenge? I hope not; life is more than that.

What are you talking about mature anyways? mature is spoiling fun for everyone on public servers and not admitting it's wrong to do so? You're also not mature enough to admit that what you're doing is wrong so you continue here to post your argument (even though you don't have one) and insult people and act as though you've won. You haven't. You're an idiot. If you are over 13 years old then i have to assume God showered down stupid when he made you. you have no legs to stand on so just admit you're wrong.

Still ignoring? Oh right yes, again, you must ignore, because you know he is right.

Quote:I remember a few months back Xeon was crying like a baby because everyone flamed him.... he left the forums in shame and said he'd never be back.

Oh well, I guess the lack of anything else to do hit him hard.

De7 is right... anyone who spends as much time making cheats as you or cyberpunk does has gotta suck at the game, there's no two ways about it.

I agree. If you are so good Xeon how about a 1v1 with Spoony in a renguarded server? No? Ah right, because you suck.

My only reply i will give you for any of your two-faced insults is that none of you even know the half of it.

- Xeon -

Also, UNTIL a few things have been completed i will not post on this name and will continue on my others. I assusre you i will be back.

You act like there are great things at work here, but it's just a silly video game. You must understand that from the point of view of most people you're just ruining everyone's fun.

I seem to remember you assuring us you wouldn't be back. Well, you broke that promise, so shall we assume this time you actually are leaving?

nopic01| wrote on Fri, 12 August 2005 19:15Crimson wrote on Fri, 12 August 2005 17:43It's not my opinion that I spend about $250-300 per month for the RenGuard network with very little help from the community. The work of you and other cheaters isn't hurting EA one tiny little bit. You aren't even a fly on the wall to them. Without people like Blackhand Studios, Renegade would have died for everyone but cheaters and turned into a cheater vs. cheater war with only a few servers up. EA's income from Renegade, if anything, barely covers the cost of keeping the WOL server(s) online. They don't care about this game and no amount of cheating ever will.

hey wait a minute wat bout me????

first my server owner access gone then my pm im confused even more hello...

Once upon a time there was a child called nopic01. He didn't deserve access to the server owner's forum.

The End

I hope you did well in your English and ICT exams.

(No name, addresses or dates, etc.)

Dear XeonTeam, (Comma optional)

Get shot. (Should start under the X of XeonTeam.)

Sincerely, (You know him that well? No i dont think, so it Yours faithfully. Oh and no comma.)
DarkDemin (Should have been a 2 lined space before this.)

Overall, thats more of an embarrasment to yourself that to Xeon.

Come on, next time think of something more constructive.
