so i on friday i posted a in a topic about how renguard has allowed cheaters to get away with using hacks. then i get banned by crimson because i said she was wrong. in no way shape or form did i disobey any rules of the site (show me where it says i cant state my opinion in the rules section). then she removes my post. and tell me when has BS been a reason to ban someone, even temporarily, without a warning first. this confuses me. im sure that people with banning rights are given the rule "warn first, ban second". as it is also in most servers. well if crimson expects an apology for me saying she was wrong, then o well. i dont apologize for things that are true. crimson, do some research about the amount of cheaters banned while using renguard. youll see its a bit more than "10".

I have been banned on many distinct occasions for "cheating" while I was running RenGuard. When people say they have seen a lot of cheaters who use RenGuard, I suspect they actually saw myself or de7 smurfing, or someone similar.

That's a shame.

By the way, I hope you realise these are her forums and she can do whatever she wants with them. I have to admit, if you acted like that on a forum where I was the admin, I would have banned you too.

I beleive this quote applies to you:

Quote:I sincerely hope that you have a penchant for Thai ladyboys and that your fellow emo friends find out. I am not a vindictive man but it is my fervent wish that from now until the end of time all your itches are unreachable. And that somebody writes something obscene in weedkiller on your front lawn.

Quit crying like the 12 year old emo you are, or appear to be through your severe lack of grammar, and grow up, for all our sakes.

acted what way? discussing renguard? is that a reason to be banned? o well. and mrpirate. if you are one of the people that i say cheat and use renguard, then ill be sure to ban you again, because all the people i am talking about are the people that have gone through full fledged tests and failed. im talking about checking for bones, kbps exploit, BH, BB, BHB, Final Renegade, Righ Click, and much more. every person that i ban have either refused to take the test, paged me saying they are cheating and asking me to let them go (yes its true i have a ss of them doing this while i was testing them), failing the test horrible (killing two people that are nowheres near eachother DURING THE TEST), and refusing to post a screen shot. Most people say "i dont know how". let me ask them this. if you are as good as u are, and get 20kills 1death, then obviously you have been playing for a while, and no doubt been asked to test before, therefor should know how to take a screen shot. if any of you has a reasonable argument about how they are not cheating, tell me id like to know

If it were up to me, your lack of grammar should suffice a ban. Lucky for you, however, it's not up to me.

let me think, is this school? is this work? is this any place where i will be graded on any type of spelling/grammar? No. this is the internet, where i dont care how i type, i know i make mistakes in my spelling and i seriously dont care. its not worth my time and effort to go back and correct every little mistake (when some one with a 2nd grade reading education knows what it says). so if you cant read a word that is one or two letters off, then too bad for you, go back to school and learn some Logic Problems.

The attitude like this is why you are no longer welcome here. Please go away and come back when you graduate from junior high.

I don't see a problem with bad grammar online, people come here for entertainment. I'm not saying it's a good thing, it does make you look like somewhat of an idiot. I find it so much easier to write essays while already in the habit of proper grammar and mostly correct spelling.

Or you could learn how to type fast and use the backspace button, that seems to work well for lots of people. It's really not that hard to do. Or you could be like this:

OmG I R soooo KEWL dat i dunt hav 2 speel rite becuz im co0l leik dat

Your choice.

Oh yeah, there's a "Spell-Check Message" button right next to the "Post Message" button.

I shall re-phrase.

Nopic, I'm thinking of a phrase, it starts with "Fuck" and ends with "off". Can you guess what it is?

Giving out someone's IP is not illegal, however using that information to DDoS, et al. is another story..
