lol... he just took the image from the site and cut the top off (probably to get rid of the "close up" on the original image)... sad.

Anybody notice that his image doesn't have a top border? As majikent said, he more than likely took the "close up" image, and just lazily chopped off the "close up" text without even so much as to put on a 1px white border on top. How fucking stupid can you be?
