So, umm. . . is there a point to your topic? If not someone should hijack this thread.

I see that you are fluent in Gibbering Moronese. Is there a gibberish translator in the house? I can't make head nor nail of that uber-babble you flung onto the screen during your latest spasmodic seizure. Although, I suppose I should have some sympathy for your handicap. You are obviously paralyzed from the neck up.

Clearly, you spend way too much time in darkened rooms in front of your seven-year-old computer turning a whiter shade of pale. Go outside once in a while and breathe, before your brain starts to rot from all that festering stagnation and cognitive dysfunction.

Why is it that the people with the smallest minds always have the biggest mouths? If you knew what you're talking about, you'd be dangerous. I suggest you need Mark Twain's advice; "It is better to be silent and be thought a fool, than to speak and remove all doubt."

When god was handing out personalities, you must have been holding the door. You're so boring, even a boomerang wouldn't come back to you. Any friend of yours is a lousy judge of character. Seriously, I've come across decomposing dog carcasses that are less offensive to the senses than you are.

In closing, I suggest the next time that you feel an urge to embarrass yourself and bore others, that you summon all your might, and resist.

I've got three, but I still want a Kitten. They're so cute, an' they love to jump and climb on things...
