A few minutes ago, I was on jelly after playing on unrules -newmaps. it was Walls_flying, the map changed to Islands. Everybody made kills, was being killed..blah. I was NOD. I upgraded to a 500 sniper and went on top of the outpost in front of the refinery. I looked right to the GDI Base entrance and a advanced Sydney appeared. I killed her with a simply yheadshot and after this I started firing at some med tanks. After a bit my game crashed down to the desktop, and I saw this in the RG log=

So am I kicked because of cheating (I didn't cheat at all -never) or is RG going crazy? I never changed something with the always2.dat. The only files I have in my DATA are Skins and Sounds....DDS, TGA and WAV.

Strange...did something decide to modify always2.dat behind your back?

Anyhoo... Did you bother trying to rejoin the server after that? I may very well have been a one-time glitch. Like the LAN Exploit thing when you're not doing it, or Westwood Online not connecting, then instantly connecting on the next try.

Remove the additional files first. If this doesn't work, uninstall, then reinstall rg. If this doesn't work, uninstall then reinstall renegade. If these doesn't solve your problem either, say goodbye to Renegade community.

The extra files should have no effect on it at all, they would have been detected on its primary scan if at all. RenGuard is not a very fast too at scanning some files, eg: always2.dat, This could probably be fixed by reinstalling the 1.037 patch for renegade then rg again. If not, reinstall Renegade and the lot.

+ Xeon -

Always2.dat is allowed by the "vanilla" RenGuard installation (that is, installing Renegade, then 1.037 patch, then RenGuard, then optionally CorePatch 1). Are you installing any other modifications to Renegade? If so, please list them!

Sorry for not checking back earlier.

I didn't get any notification by email, the Email provider changed the spam-settings to Pitbullmode or something

I had a Virus which came in by abusing some weaknesses from the IE6 and infected some files. Sheesh, I cleared all and did format C: and D: and E:

I think this Virus (whatever the name was) has altered the always.dat. Sorry I haven't find out this earlier.

BTW, RG does a good Job and yes, I tried to login again after this issue but still the same again.

Now, I use Win2000 and can't play RGprotected because of the well-known "Buffer-Overflow" whine. I got a new comp in two weeks, then WinXP is coming back.

THX for all replies, thinking about it and being patient !!

i know u saidu found out what happend... but i just want to say, i dont think u were acused of cheating, it sounded like ur game crashed.

That happens to me on some servers, just keep joining until it doesnt happen any more, it will eventually stop... dunno y though

EDIT: u know 4get what i just said, i didnt see the picture
