- #1. It's survey.
- #2. EA sucks.
- #3. Battlefield: Veitnam is better than Battlefield 2.
- #4. Go back to the Xfire forums.
- #5. Don't let other decide for you, do what you want. If you want to support it, then do.

Edit: #4 was "Go to back to the Xfire forums." Hell of a grammar error there.

there's no point in creating a renegade clan, unless your going to play actively on the Manual clanwar league at <http://www.clanwars.cc>

Actually you can still create a clan as a group of friends that play together, train together and have a funwar now and then.

When we play funwars it usually ends one of two ways: either someone cheats against us, or someone thinks we cheat and say they'll reset our rank because they're some kind of Renegade Clan War admin. I'm not worried though, because everyone knows there's no such thing as a Renegade Clan War Admin.

If I don't call you an idiot, I'll call you a dumbass but the result is the same, isn't it?

Call it a clan or a community, we're still here and there's more and more "communities" if you like than "clans" as you call them because many remaining Renegade players are there for the fun of it and not to play 15 2v2 or 3v3 clan wars every week.

You can create a clan in XWIS = The WOL management thingy = useless.

Just go to Chat typ /reg and it will give you a link to the Tiberian SUN and Renegade clan creation. But as far as I know, the ingame tags don't work..

As for the funwars.. most of the time NoN00bs played against other community's it turned out like Spooky said. GF for example they wanted a fun war but it ended up with them all leaving they were getting owned and started calling us cheaters (so much for the funwar). If you want to get a good clan get active in Clanwars.cc manual league. If you start a more of community clan which doesn't really play cw's then dont play the clans from clanwars because it won't get owned.

clans compete against one another. communities all join the same tag and play in public servers all day, which is what people NOT on the manual league do. i can pretty much sum up what clans NOT on the manual league do all day:

1. make a server called " GENERIC NOOB CLAN Recruiting "
2. get some dumbass n00bs to download ts and join their "clan"
3. rent a public server and play in it all day
4. when people come in asking for a clan war, they dodge.
5. when people better than them wanna play in it, they go crazy !forcerg !rg !kick !kb or "OMG WTF TEST NOW"

oh and tbh, no "clan" on WOL/XWIS that ISNT on the manual league, has a very slim chance of beating one that is. and to be even more honest, clans that join the manual league from WOL/XWIS tend to get liek 300% better.

It's a rather good assumption that a person who plays on clanwars regularly is better than the average renegade player. and by average renegade player i mean someone who doesn't play clanwars very often. Seriously, play good people and you become better. I don't mean to sound mean but it's the truth of it. Not to mention it isn't an ancient secret. There's a big reason why certain clans had become good over the years. You just have to look at gse's early history to see what we had to go through.

HmMMM so it's better to play 2v2 games all day without saying a word to your opponents unless "PWNed" or "I 4m t3h 1337" than to play a public game now and then and actually do so with friends and have some fun during those games?

first of all karm, during the time you were in VERB, we never even played a single game with each other, and you havent seen me play since, id probably give you a good game.

dont get us wrong Goz, public servers can be fun from time to time, but when you play public server games, you can only learn so much. once you learn clan wars and play them regularly, they ARE fun, at first it may not seem like it cuz you'll be getting pwnt your first 20 games or so, but they are a good time.

and when you said you play clanwars from time to time, playing clans like Black-Cell or XpHaZe that run public servers, doesnt really count, since all they do is play in public servers all day as well. i mean, i know n00bs that think Bizmalt is like the best renegade player ever, but the truth is, he sucks hard. hed lose to any player on clanwars.cc garunteed, if you guys would stop arguing and just check it out and join the manual league and play competitively youd realize we aren't bs'ing you.

Ive played every major GSA clan except for H20, gse, and TA I believe. But one of my old clans played gse if that counts. Anyways I have played respectable clans even if, in your eyes they are not. By respectable I mean they play a good game and win or lose, they are graceful. NE, FLY, UN, The old XD, and others of the like.

There are several facets of skill in Renegade but there seems to be a need to trend whore and be good at clan games. Personally, I don't give a fuck. I do what I think sounds fun at the present time. If a clan war strikes me as a possible fun thing to do, I'll try to organize one. If someone asks me and I don't feel like it, automatically they turn into a parrot, and can only say the word Dodge. The image of how I "pwn" at Renegade doesn't really matter to me. So it's not really an insult if someone says I suck at the game.

Really the thing that I'm saying is that if you haven't played against real good clans and such is that they are probably (mostly) better. This of course shouldn't mean crap because you aren't playing against awesome players. Just don't go saying you're better than someone especially when they've played a lot of clan wars against said bunch. (as that would defeat the whole purpose of saying you didn't give a shit) The experience of playing clan wars alone is enough to tell you what to do in each situation.

I don't think there's anything wrong with not playing clan wars. Honestly, I don't now, and never really did, enjoy playing clan wars over public servers. That had something to do with the kinds of people and behaviour associated with clan war players, and something to do with me not necessarily looking for a challenge every time I play video games. That said, I have to agree that players who play can wars often are usually better than players who don't.

I was in Xil when we got raped for the first time, we'd get it again from H20 and XSR soon after, and i think GSE again as well. We played n00b clans after that and won like 50% of the time, then I left and joined +ILL+ with former good Xil players. then i left ILL and joined VERB with players from clanwars.cc. that kinda died really fast so now im in HCMF with mostly players that i used to hang out with, they're alright, but we need practice if we're gunna try for the cup.

Ever noticed how many clans most real clan war players have been in?

Communities last much longer than clans. Name me one real clan that has been around for 1 or 2 years? There aren't many.

OR people get sick of eachother because many clan war players are dickheads (sorry for the ones who aren't) OR some members stop it because they get bored of it or they don't have the time left to do it.

H2O has been around since September 2004.

Clanwars isn't as bad as it used to be when there was tons of competition; Almost everyone plays fair and doesn't taunt or rub in wins (aren't dickheads). On the clanwars forums, its a different story; most people are retards there, but the actual clanning itself has been pretty fun lately with no bullshit.

If you want to stay close to the best, you'r going to have to play activly in cw. Not everyone has the time to play on a schedule like that, at least I can't. But I do enjoy getting MVP3 in a server, and no I don't own shit I just play for the fun. Having a more competitive game is a plus and playing cw's can be extremly fun and it is just having a good game against people that are on the same level as you which makes it fun and competitive. But I think it still counts that if you don't play enough and reguarly you can't stay in the top. And most of the clan players were once public server players, dont forget that.

Let me make this perfectly clear: I don't care if I'm the best at this game, I don't even care if I'm good or not. I just play for fun. You people who do nothing but play clanwars tend to take them too seriously. As for playing a game, if you're ever in GSA my name is [GDE]gbull[SoD]. I'll play you in a 1v1 almost anytime, but even if I do beat you, I wouldn't parade around and celebrate the fact.

sorry, im not gay, i dont use GSA. it just seems a little retarded to me to actually NOT want to get better at a game that you play. i mean, playing a game and never wanting to improve is pretty stupid. why would you want to play like an idiot the whole time? you mean you dont naturally pick up things? you actually have to focus and think about getting better? you sir, have a mental deficiency.

tbh, if you used XWIS (which is about 100x easier and has more people and servers), then id play you, but im not downloading that POS GSA just to play you a single game that i already know the outcome of.

using gamespy is gay? it's... really not hard at all. Assuming you think it's 100x harder to use it than xwis i wouldn't seriously call anyone retarded. Some people don't have enough time to get better at a game. So they make do with the time they have and just play to have fun. A game isn't about being the best; it's there to have fun. I mean it's not like you're totally above everyone else who doesn't play clanwars. Heck, I could probably beat you and i play a game or two a week.

you think we care? its no suprise to us how bad we own nubs like you, it's just amuzing how you people waltz around and think your the shit because you can get MVP*3 in a public server, then when someone comes in and owns the shit out of you, you start whining and throwing around cheat accusations. its quite cute, tbh.

This attitude is the reason I don't like CW's in the first place... Thanks for once again confirming.

So if you talked to one rude Canadian, you'd never go to Canada?

He just confirmed my experience after quite some CW's.

And did anyone around here actually play Mr Wiggles so we can maybe hear from someone else than himself if he's actually any good? What is your xwis name anyway, wiggles?

and what team did you play for spoon? with you leading and training public server nubs in clanwars, is practically making them clan war players.

sniper, if you feel that way id be happy to set up a game with you sometime.

goz, my nicks are:

l0n3st4r

MrW1gg13s

Cr33mS0d4

Teryiaki (havent used it yet) and what are yours incase i see you online one day...

when i played with clanwars against nonoobs the 1st time, we won 2 maps to 1 (while the teams were even) after that it was 20 against 7 or something, so if you want to count those as games, go ahead.

I wouldn't mind, just that I can't play on westwood without getting horrible fps lag for some odd reason

Considering -a- a bunch of CW players chose to leave because they were pissed at losing the third game, and -b- the rules (which both teams specifically agreed to) said unambiguously that the games would count if that happened, yes, we will count those as games...

your rite spoon, 20 vs 7 does sound fair. you should probably rub it in more.

Rub what in? No need to get pissed, just because your statement was proved wrong.

I'm not saying any other community would beat CW, just saying mine has done so twice out of two, and you said nobody would...

It were close games, and the cw started leaving when NoN00bs was GDI on City fly... by then it was still 20-17 or something

It is called fair play to at least stay until the maps you decided to play are over.

"NE, FLY, UN, The old XD, and others of the like."

Your pulling at my heart strings GBull, I the old XD could of had it all, we had alot of very talented players in that clan, but unfortunatly some things dont work out.

Only clans we lost to were 109 and GSE, coarse I think everybody lost to 109th,

I pretty much only have like 5 active members for Renegade and really we just cruize into a server and have fun, our warring days are pretty much over, although I am looking to expand the sniper division but as said earlier, its all good fun.
