Every serial is a global serial.

They are no longer checked when the server runs, so any combination of numbers the correct length will work.

But you did say you were new, so you probably didn't know, thanks anyway.

Really i didnt know that. Are you saying if i changed my serial to 11111111111111111111

That would work?

yes but the standard installer wouldn't accept it proolly. But if you change it in the INI, sure!

Long as it starts with 0669, the installer will accept it
