what with that ss?

its just your slow connection that makes downloading 2 gb take 14 hours?

steam is just going 150-200k a sec here:S (on 3 mb internet)

Anyone else I show it to gets it. I put an old picture of Steam updating CS:S on the MP3 player and took a picture of it displaying it. It's a joke about trying to update CS:S on my MP3 player, but going as slow as hell. This isn't to show off or anything (except maybe to show that the screen is OLED, not LCD, because OLED rocks).

You only put it as that because since you were so slow to get such a simple and small stupid thing, I had to explain every detail about it which now makes you totally miss the point and go "wtf". Congratulations on letting this go right past your head.

I didn't get it either until you explained it, which (to me) means that your joke was pretty god damned lame and had no humor in it at all.

SK's picture was more than appropriate.

It would've been better if it was a PSP.
