I found this site earlier after unsuccessfully messing around with msn and netmeeting's whiteboards.

It's an online whiteboard that allows you to invite other people to work with you. I spent an hour and 1/2 yesterday night with a good friend of mine working out all of the potential problems and exploits that could arise with different base designs for Pompeii (we finally came up with a kickass idea that meets all of my requirements).

Check it out, it's really neat.
