I have had that before.... funny... my solution was to maximize the reguard window(I know. strange answer)... If that doesn't help then I don't know.

*usually* the blank screen indicates that RG was unable to fetch the HTML...this is usually caused by a firewall issue. I know you say you have no firewall, but what about the builtin windows firewall? Go to your control panel, Windows Firewall, and see if it is turned on or not.

Right click on the renguard on the taskbar and do maximalise or minimise (try both). One of the two should help, like our mate above stated.
