For some reason, Renegade limits me to "2d Poisional Sound" or whatever the driver is. I just played some multiplayer with a really nice headset. God damn. When I walked, It sounded like I was surrounded by many people, when I am simply alone. The sound isn't exactly positional either. Sounds mono.

Anyone know a work-around?

Even when BHS updated the sound support in Renegade, I still have to use Miles or it sounds really weird or off. I have a perfectly legit sound card and 5.1 speakers. I guess they did the best they could.

You could record your own, but that's probably too hard.
