We, the CnC Reborn team, have completely recreated the Tiberium Refinery. The old model had some problems when placed ingame, for example, the Purchase Terminals couldn't be fitted properly.

Anyways, here's the good stuff. Modeled by Exdeath, textured by Sloth, and some skinning done by Renardin.

Nod Refinery will be following soon.

That picture of the in game power plant is possibly the best graphics I've seen for Renegade. Kick ass, looks like Renegade 2 kinda.

Yea, it does capture the look and feel from the Ren 2 screenshots.

I love that industrial look to Tiberian Sun and they captured it really well here.

Yeah, Renardin pointed out to me that I should add it. I'm adding it tonight. It will be shown with the nod version and will also be on the GDI version.

Great work guys, I love the tower out the back and the of course the interior is very impressive.
Can you access both levels of the building?

Only one level is accesable, the door down there is just eye candy for your imagination.

Everything looks super awesome. It may only be a small part of the structure, but the purchase terminals look amazing. I really love them, I thought the same when I saw the Hand of Nod ones in a previous display on the forums.

And they are something that are in constant use too.

The only thing that I would improve if I could, would be the tiberium slurry that I can see in the last picture. The smoke looks good, but the actualy tiberium itself looks like the same stuff in renegade.

But seriously, the refinery owns

Wow..

That looks really good. Nice Job.

Those PCTs are looking nice too, fits well with TS feel. The interior looks good.

My only complaint is below...

As you can see, there is obvious tiling in the selected areas. Try to fix it up a little.

Besides that, superb job.

Not bad, very nice. But dont have that door down there for nothing

Make it lead somewhere....like a hallway connecting to the hand/barr
That would be sweet.

That's exactly how it must be. The exterior is worn down by Tiberium storms, the interior is high tech because of the high tech weaponry/materials availlable .

Oh well, at least he didn't say it was worn down by a choral vortex.
