Check out my new shirt. Look familiar? lol... My girlfriend made it for me for Valentine's day. Now her family thinks I'm insane though... :/

Hehe, nice shirt! Would be better with just the T-80 ...come to think of it, call me an idiot but what is that to the left of the nuclear explosion, LOL? It looks like a car speaker or something. I always thought you had a cool sig, but I never understood it

It's an RE Audio SX Subwoofer.

<http://doitle.tugok.com/subs/sx/> <-- See that for Pictures

The whole idea for the shirt came when we were supposed to make shirts for the senior picture. You know, you get groups together and all make the same shirt and wear them in the pictures. I wanted to make shirts that had a Tank, a Subwoofer, and a Mushroom cloud in them. They would say NOT VEGETARIANS on the back. I never was able to get them made so instead used the idea for my signature on the forums. My girlfriend knowing all this backstory decided to finally make a shirt of it lol.

That's so cool. I second the "your girlfriend is awesome" movement. Btw, you must be really proud of that Subwoofer... you even took a picture of the empty box it came in Well Resonant Engineering is notorious for bad shipping. They ship a 40lb Subwoofer in a regular Cardboard box with 4 tiny foam squares which they think will keep it in place. The bottom of the box is a 1/2" Peice of Particle Board. You can see from the first two pictures the box is subwoofer shaped after being banged some lol...

EDIT: Not bad as in price wise or reliability wise, but just actual physical quality wise lol... They are optimistic about the boxes treatment by USPS...
