Ok this is kinda of Newbie question, but i know that on dedicated servers theres a way to do stuff like :

Make you're own rules and commands

Have messages pop up like [NR]: Visit us at www.BLAHBLAHBLAH.com

Set you're own mine limits, car limits, money limits etc.

And how do you get night regulator? I'm not exactly sure what Night Regulator does but i think it's the bot that lets you do that (or some of it at least) stuff right?

If anyone could post some info about NR and how to do those things to my serv, i'd love you long time.

Lol, joking, thanks in advance.

Night Regulator is a regulator just like the other you will find on other servers, like Brenbot, CloudyServ, ect.

I'm sure you can't set vehicle limit through a regulator. I can be wrong though. I am also sure that Night Regular doesn't support making your own commands yet, not possitive however. Unless you mean using of the commands already built into the Rengulator. Oh and what the heck is a money limit?

Well like you said your unsure. I wish I could post a NightRegulator FAQ and tutorial but I need to go to bed shortly and have been real busy lately.

What I think hes actually wanting is the automatic messages that most regulators can post into the game at regular intervals.

I have not used NR myself, so I won't try and explain what features it has (since I don't know)

Basically to install a regulator you download it (link in rc22fires' post, or for brenbot www.brenbot.com), and run the installer.

Oh well then I haven't been keeping my knoweldge database up in my brain up to date.

I should have said Nightma is the person to ask about that.
