Aight, so I didnt see any other threads for this problem, maybe I'm just an idiot oh well lol.

It lets me connect to the WOL server, but when I try to get a server listing, it says no servers. Yet when I go to a friends place, I can play just fine. I've chedked firewall and its allowing anything related to renegade.

Um, when you first try to logon, does it say invalid serial? Check the little window that pops up. Because that's a major problem with many people.

No I mean the little window that pops up saying after you see the little box that shows your kills, deaths, etc. The one that pops up after you put in your name and password and hit login.
It should say something along the lines of "Connected to XCC online!" and or it should say something about an error that occured while trying to connect to XCC online.

The box should look something like this(it might say something different):

Ah, but the solution is given. Install with a valid unshared key.

I got that blank server listings thing a couple days ago..
I ran renguard and it said I had a corrupt armour.ini or something, so I deleted that file and everything went back to normal.
So try running renguard

You obviously have your password incorrect. Fix it, and you should log in fine.

When you want to join your buddy it tries to connect you to the same server he is in. Apparently the server he is in is password-protected. Just find the same server on the list and join it from there instead.
