The Renguard mainscreen will not show on my desktop unless i right click renguard in the taskbar and hit maximize..

i cannot have it windowed mode its full screen or nothing..

any fixes for this as i find it extremely annoying trying to get in and out of game etc

I had that before, when using RenIP alot this started. Then it turned into RenIP stopping my Renguard from working at all, and there was only 1 solution to that. A format.

I don't know the reason its happening for you or a way to fix it.

Why is it a problem that renguard needs to be full screen? It auto-minimises afterwards, no?

its a problem becuase on start up all i have on my screen is renguard on the taskbar.. i can click it.. then it minimizes itself in the system tray when i click the system tray its back in the taskbar.. nothing else shown.. i then have to right click and select maximize otherwise i cannot see it at all its just annoying to use like this also i think i have found the problem are these values suppoed to be that high?

its the top and left registry values that have screwed it up DethDeath sent me his reg settings and it worked now somebody needs to figure out why that happened.. i never did it ^_^
