Ok so I'm a freshman in college now and I still have no clue what I want to do with my life. I keep seeing commercials for Decry College. The commercials talk about pursuing a carrier in game design and I thought it looked pretty interesting.

I've been into video games / computer games my whole life and I think it would be a job I could actually get into. Unfortunately I have absolutely no knowledge about the field what so ever.

So my questions are:
1: Will I be able to go into this without knowledge of that kind of stuff?
2: Is there good job placement in that field?
3: Is it a lot of math

Before I started typing this I could have sworn I had more questions about it but I just can't remember them right now so ill ask further down if I can think of anything else

Whenever I see those commercials I'm unimpressed. I'm trying my luck in something more feasible: an Information Systems Degree at Grand Valley State University. Not the best known college on earth but its got a great CS department.
