I downloaded this mod once but never got to play a real game - is there anyone out there who could host a RenAlert server? (perhaps only for a pre-arranged date/time)

Would be cool to try it out and I'm pretty sure I can rally some troops to join in a few games if anyone else is interested.

You might not have the right version, most of the time there are around 4 servers up with anywhere from 4-20 people playing in one.

1. It's not "ren & stimpy alert", it's Red Alert: A Path Beyond.

Wow... Aircraftkiller double posted... Even on accident, I never thought I'd see the day.

Edit: Typo.

Although I always say RA:APB, I've always found 'RenAlert' to be catchier.

So RenAlert and A Path Beyond are, in fact, the same thing then.

That clears that up. I had only seen it advertised as RenAlert until I found the forums.

I don't have it on my PC atm which is probably why I havn't seen the servers - nice to see that someone is hosting servers for this mod.

Will download tonight and try and get a few games
