You click "quit" in the renguard window. This is normal.

I misunderstood your question, it wasn't very clear .

You mean your game closes without you wanting it to close after some maps, allthough Renguard keeps running.

Did you do a virus and spybot check? Did you try reinstalling the game (in a different directory)?

Actually, this is probably because your Renegade executable is Crashing To Desktop upon trying to load a map you don't have / have an incompatable version of.

The solution is (of course) to get the map you're missing.
