Hi, i made this short video with T00badguy.

Renegade Sniper

I want to make some more videos longer obviously but i need some help. I need more actors, writers, and voice actors. I want to start making something similar to Red vs Bluse but in renegade. In this video i was just experementing with whay i could do but if this is going to work ill need some help.

You mean, you wanted to make it similer to Nod vs GDI. I'd be an actor if you could use my help, but I can't write for crap, and my accent is to strong to be of any use as a voice actor.

How did you make that movie? (The flying around part and all that)
Nice one anyway. The ending was funny.

You have to figure out the flying around for your self.

Edit: For there to be some sort of organization to this we're going to need a forum somewhere....

Accents shouldn't make too big of a difference, unless by "too strong" you mean "incomprehensible to anybody not in my immediate family."

I think an accent would give your character more personality.

I could probably help you with recording or acting or even editing if you'd like.

I get around 40 fps on with fraps on (full version) and I could probably remove most of the HUD and use a blank reticle.

Whatever happens, just make sure you use a plot. I don't think that movie clip had anything remotely close to it. That made it so very uninteresting.

And also, the music was annoying. Especially if you wanted to include some sort of plot.

Plus, voice acting sounds like something fun to do.

I can try to help if you want me too, but you might not want me as a voice actor. (I'm twelve and might sound weird, but I don't care)

I can be an actor but probably not a voice one. The thing is you have to get everyone on at the same time.
I set up a forum just for this.
Talking there will be better than here.
